"Pregnancy is usually a time of joy, daydreams, and wonder. In some cases it ends all too soon in miscarriage. In others, the joy becomes anxiety and the daydreams become worries. For families facing a high-risk or terminal diagnosis in pregnancy, the road to birth quickly becomes confusing and complicated. An early loss or devastating diagnosis affects all areas of the family's life including physical, emotional, relational, financial, mental, legal, and spiritual well being. Research indicates the support a family receives has a large impact on their ability to manage their journey and stay together. The church has three options: silence, judgement, or support. At Charis et Veritas LLC we work together with families impacted by miscarriage or perinatal hospice and palliative care and their communities to increase the chances those families will remain intact and experience a sense of power, trust, and love throughout their journey. We would be honoured to share what we have learned with you and partner with you in supporting families in your community."
