He and his wife, Bethany, founded The Radiance Foundation to extensively research and creatively present social issues in the context of individual Purpose. He is a sought after international public speaker, addressing tens of thousands each year in diverse audiences here and abroad. Ryan has keynoted at renown locations and events including the UN, Ireland's Trinity College (home of the world's oldest Philosophical Society), Notre Dame University, SaddleBack Church, Values Voter Summit, the March for Life (D.C.), Canada's March for Life, CareNet's annual conference, Capitol Hill briefings and hundreds more events.

He recently won a crucial free speech lawsuit against a leading civil rights organization that was trying to censor his First Amendment rights. He is known for creating content that is fearless, factual and freeing.

Ryan's work, including the bold TooManyAborted.com and powerful AdoptedAndLoved.com initiatives, has received extensive media coverage by the NY Times, CNN, MSNBC, the Associated Press, ABC World News, Huffington Post, NPR, JET, BET, and many other traditional and new media news outlets.
